2. Report of TransLink Management

Geoff Cross, Vice President, Transportation Planning and Policy, TransLink, led a review of a presentation titled “TransLink Management Report” and highlighted:

- Map illustrating 2017 expansion of transit service improvements under Phase One
- Pre/Post toll removal analysis of traffic volumes, travel times and transit ridership
- Sources of data, including traffic counts, transit ridership and travel times
- Conclusions:
  - Significant increase in auto traffic across the Fraser
  - Increase mainly due to new trips and destination changes
  - Significant routing changes
  - Trucks are more sensitive to costs than expected
  - Mixed travel time implications
  - Marginal mode shift.

Kevin Desmond, Chief Executive Officer, TransLink, together with Mr. Cross responded to questions.

Discussion ensued on:

- Interest in an analysis of the number of crossing of the Burrard Inlet vs. Fraser River

Councillor Keating arrived at the meeting at 9:15 a.m.

- Progress on possibilities relating to later night SkyTrain service:
  - While late night service is possible, there are trade-offs, including the loss of maintenance hours overnight
  - Key priority of maintaining the rail system in a state of good repair
The BC Rapid Transit Company President and General Manager and the TransLink CEO are committed to analyze options for providing late night services, and expects to report back in 2018 Q2.

There is value to enter into discussion with other stakeholders.

- Late night transportation and SkyTrain has been an issue raised consistently.

Action (01): TransLink staff to report back to the Mayors’ Council early in the New Year on the issues that need to be dealt with in order to come to a conclusion about providing late-night services, e.g. implications for SkyTrain, union contracts, employee safety, and connections.

It was MOVED and SECONDED

That the Mayors’ Council on Regional Transportation receives the report. CARRIED

3. Report of the Joint Committee on Transportation Planning and Funding

   3.1 Phase One Plan of the 10-Year Vision: DCC for Transit

   Report dated November 30, 2017 from Geoff Cross, Vice President, Transportation Planning and Policy, and Chris Dacre, Vice President, Financial Services, titled “A Proposed Structure and Rates for a Development Cost Charge for Transit”, was provided with the agenda material.

   Mayor Coté, Joint Committee on Transportation Planning and Funding Co-Chair, advised that there has been little progress in terms of arriving at a Funding Agreement for Phase Two. The provincial government has committed to ongoing discussions, but is fairly consumed with discussion on a Site C decision at this point. The federal government would very much like to see the local, provincial and federal governments come to an agreement in order to take advantage of the Federal funding available.

   The Joint Committee had some discussion about strategies for the New Year, and supported engaging with provincial representatives through every means possible to highlight the importance of transportation.

   Mr. Cross, led a review of a presentation provided with the agenda material and highlighted:

   - Objectives for the design of the DCC
   - New investment and new regional funding sources
   - Rationale for considering a Regional DCC for transit/regional transportation
   - Guiding directions on DCC from the 2017 Investment Plan
   - Current status of proposed DCC, which requires Provincial approval and legislation
   - Proposed DCC Framework and Rates for Transit Infrastructure in Metro Vancouver
   - Consultation process on the concept of a new DCC for funding regional transportation infrastructure
   - Feedback received on use of funds, setting rates, uniform vs. tiered rates, and accountability and transparency
   - Recommendation to adopt a region-wide uniform rate structure for DCCs
     - Acknowledgement that some partners preferred a tiered rate
     - Suggestion to include in the legislation the power to set different rates in different parts of the region (with appropriate consultation)
• Expectation that proposed DCC rates will not impact housing affordability
• Summary of apartment analysis
• Final steps to bring DCC into effect to collect by January 2020.

Mr. Cross and Andrew McCurran, Director, Strategic Planning and Policy, responded to questions.

Discussion ensued on:
• Rationale for recommending a uniform vs. tiered structure
• Recognition that transit and zoning and accessibility can raise property values
• DCCs are designed to represent and reflect cost borne from growth
• Expectation that uniform rates will not slow the rate of development of land use
• Concern about impacts on industrial lands
• Suggestion that the framework is sufficient for the province to draft legislation without the rates; rate setting would be at the power of the Mayors’ Council and Board
• Many people requesting additional transit are the industrial areas where uniform rates may not be applicable

Action (02): TransLink staff to report back on the proposed 50 cent per square foot DCC for industrial, in terms of whether it may suppress demand for land use or is absorbable; and to develop a tiered scenario for that particular use.

• Need to clarify the report to indicate that, like all other changes to revenues sources, the DCC rates would require Board and Mayors’ Council approval through the Investment Plan and as prescribed by the legislation
• Support for the framework to allow for a change in rates
• Feedback received from stakeholders on tiered vs. uniform rates
• Whether there has been consideration that industrial areas may use 24/7 shifts
• Phase One investments in services and capital do not include extension of more buses for night-time service
• Eastern municipalities and Richmond were most concerned about a uniform approach
• Concern that there has not been enough consideration given to the difference between uniform and tiered and local vs. regional developers; there is need for a closer analysis involving more stakeholders
• Expectation to debt service most of the capital; choices would be made from year to year on debt financing vs. cash for capital
• Recognition that people travel between municipalities and benefit from the regional transportation investment
• Interest to close the loop on discussions that started last fall with regard to Phase One implementation of the Transit Plan
• Concern that if we cannot move forward with the DCC it will slow down implementation of Phase One
• The TransLink Board will consider the same recommendation at its meeting on December 14, 2017
• Focus on Phase One to put new investments into outer areas of the region and to address areas that have been underserved
• Support for the DCC to be even higher in order to provide capital to build a sustainable region
• Suggestion that the vast majority of benefit goes to those in higher density areas closer to transit.

It was MOVED and SECONDED

That the Mayors’ Council on Regional Transportation:

1) Approves the proposed structure and rates for the Development Cost Charge for transit infrastructure as set out in the attached document (Appendix A) dated November 30, 2017, titled “A DCC for Regional Transportation Infrastructure in Metro Vancouver: Proposed Structure and Draft Rates” to serve as the basis for TransLink preparing and adopting a DCC bylaw in late 2018;

2) Receives this report.

3.2 Update on Phase Two Plan of the 10-Year Vision

Presentation titled “Update on Phase Two Plan of the 10-Year Vision”, was provided with the agenda material.

Mr. Cross led a review of the presentation titled “Update on Phase Two Plan of the 10-Year Vision” and highlighted:

• Working timeline for Plan approval, dependent on reaching a Regional Funding Agreement with the Province
• Entire 10-Year Vision funded Phase One Plan (approved), and the not funded Phase Two Plan (in progress) and Phase Three Plan (in 2020)
• Working scope of bus expansion options
• B-Line or Better Framework and costs per corridor to achieve the suites of programs
• Maps illustrating Phase Two Bus Service Package – minimum scope, incremental moderate scope, and minimum and moderate scope combined
• Incremental costs of accelerating bus service expansion
• HandyDART service expansion
• Working distribution of new bus service hours
• Process for confirming Phase Two bus expansion.

Discussion ensued on how the overview marries with Metro Vancouver’s Regional Growth Strategy (RGS), and the costs of connections to B-Line from growth areas per the RGS.

DATE: January 18, 2018

SUBJECT: ITEM 5.1 – 2018 Mayors’ Council Meeting Calendar – revised

RECOMMENDATION:

That the Mayors’ Council on Regional Transportation receive this report.

PURPOSE:

This report confirms dates for 2018 Mayors’ Council meetings with two recent revisions shown that were made to avoid conflicts with other regional meetings or events.

BACKGROUND:

Mayors’ Council meetings are planned monthly, generally the 3rd or 4th Thursday of each month. If and when circumstances warrant, at the direction of the Chair, these meeting dates may be adjusted, or new ones added, as per usual past practice.

DISCUSSION:

The 2018 meeting dates were confirmed in November, 2017, we set in consultation with, who has pledged to schedule their own committee and Board meetings around these dates. These dates seek to minimize conflicts with Metro Vancouver meetings, the Municipal Election, TransLink Board meetings, UBCM, LMLGMA and FCM conferences and Council break weeks.

Two revisions to the confirmed 2018 meetings were just made to avoid conflicts with recently discovered regional meetings and event. Revised calendar requests have been sent to your offices.
