Choice of Deluxe Tours to West Coast's Beautiful Pacific Rim National Park

Two excellent tours are offered by Pacific Stage Lines to this delightful park on the rugged and beautiful West coast of Vancouver Island. Here is grand scenery as well as magnificent Long Beach with its miles and miles of hard clean sand and the endless roar of the surf as great waves crash endlessly. Enjoy trails to secluded little beaches and look for shells and strange marine life.

A feature of these special tours which are limited to spring and fall when accommodation is available is the delightful facilities of charming Wickaninnish Inn. This fine little hostelry sits atop a rock right on the beach and at high tide the waves wash right under the lounge which offers an unsurpassed view of rocky promontories and ocean.

Wickaninnish Inn and Tofino Tour (EP-4) is available May 22 and June 7 as well as in the fall. Duration is three days and two nights. Fares are: single $118.10, double each $108.10, twin each $113.10.

From Port Alberni take the highway through valleys and past lakes and streams, through a lovely and almost unpopulated area, to the West Coast. While there, you visit the little fishing villages of Tofino and Ucluelet and have plenty of time to explore the huge and fascinating beach and interesting aspects of the great new park.

It will be performed at 12:15 and 1:15 p.m., Tuesday through Friday lunch-time; 8:00 p.m. on Friday and Saturday evenings, to May 24th. For information on group bookings and reservations, please call City Stage at 688-7013.
