

Tea-Tour to Pemberton

Enjoy a special day-trip which takes you to one of the great scenic areas of southwestern British Columbia. It features a wide variety of scenery from magnificent Howe Sound with its many islands and background of snow-capped mountains to a beautiful valley of lakes and more towering mountains.

"Easter Sunday Luncheon Tour" leaves at 9:30 a.m., March 30. Travel over the new Upper Level Highway through West Vancouver. The view is now extensive and impressive. Then up beautiful Howe Sound, into the Cheakamus Valley and through changing scenery to Pemberton. Here you have lunch.

If you stay in the same seat on the return trip, you have an almost totally changed view. Back into Vancouver around 6 p.m.

Fares are $10.50 for adults and $7.00 for children, and this includes lunch. Your ticket is your reservation. Pick it up at the bus depot in advance to avoid disappointment.

This is just one of the many one-day scenic trips offered by Pacific Stage Lines throughout the year. In the next few weeks, the 1975 "Travel News" will be printed and if you are not already on the mailing list call 681-6381 and your name will be added. "Travel News" describes all the one-day trips and the wide choice of escorted tours throughout British Columbia and into the Rocky Mountains and Alberta.

Parcel Express Service now totally at Carrall

Effective Saturday, March 8, the Parcel Express Service which has operated partly from the Pacific Stage Lines Depot moved totally to Carrall Street Yard under Georgia Viaduct. All shipments in and out of Vancouver and all pick-ups will be made from this location.

Pacific Stage Lines operates a Lower Mainland, Vancouver Island and continent-wide express service in cooperation with Vancouver Island Coach Lines, Greyhound Lines both in Canada and the United States, and other carriers.

It offers fast and low-cost delivery of parcels to just about any centre in Canada or the U.S. Parcels are carried in the large tanks under the passenger compartment and consequently the frequency of departure for express is just about the same as for passengers. For information, call 684-2171 from Vancouver or 522-6513 from the New Westminster area. Rate cards can be obtained from the Vancouver and New Westminster bus depots and from all Fraser Valley agents for Pacific Stage Lines.

Saint's Day Parade

There will be a St. Patrick's Day Parade on Sunday, March 16, in downtown Vancouver, commencing at 1 p.m. Exact route has not been officially established but is expected to be along Granville Mall to Cordova Street, then into Gastown. "Irish Rose" of the parade will be Mary Murphy, well known Irish harpist and singer.

Forty-Ninth 49

Another major cross-city service is now in the final stages of planning and is expected to begin on Friday, March 21. This is Forty-Ninth 49 which will operate between Kingsway at Nelson and the University of British Columbia. The general route is via Imperial, following the diversion to 49th, operating past Champlain Mall, returning to 49th and continuing to Marine Drive, turning at 16th Avenue to Wesbrook and to the East Mall at the University. The complete route with all diversions and all stops is shown on the reverse side of this issue.

Basically, from Monday to Friday, this is approximately a 15-minute service from Kingsway with alternative buses stopping at 41st and Dunbar or going through to the East Mall. This provides basically a 30-minute service to and from the University. First bus leaves Nelson and Kingsway at 5:53 to go through to the University, leaving there at 7:08. Final departure from Kingsway is 11:35 p.m. and from the University Loop 11:35 p.m.

Timetables will be available and should be obtained as there are minor variations in Departure times from the basic 15-minute schedule. Also, service on Saturdays, Sundays and holidays varies from that supplied on weekdays. Also, while it is expected that the service will commence on March 21, watch the newspapers for any last-minute changes.

This will become a major east-west artery in the Greater Vancouver Transit System. It will be important to those going to Vancouver City College as well as the University of British Columbia. It fills a gap in the trans-city service which has been recognized for some years and has been given careful study before implementation.

Program for Seniors at Art Gallery

"VISION '75", the program for Senior Citizens, old age pensioners and retirees will be held at the Vancouver Gallery on Tuesday, March 18, 11:00 a.m. Bring your own sandwich. Cakes, tea and coffee supplied free. Admission is free. This week's program consists of a performance by soloists Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Edmonds, followed by a guided tour of the current exhibit. For further information, please call Mrs. Day, Chairman - 263-8828.
