

'FANTASY CASTLE' —

A children's Christmas project. Fantasy Castle consists of a series of walk-through lands occupied by Burnaby Youth Volunteers. Children will explore Dreamland, Candyland and the Enchanted Forest with talking trees and animals. As they continue on their way they visit

Upside-Down Land with characters like Cinderella, Snow White and the Dwarfs, Pinocchio and many others. The journey leads to the North Pole and a visit with Santa, Mrs. Claus and all the elves.

Fantasy Castle is for children 10 years of age and under and is suitable for all handicapped children. Admission is free.

December 16, 17 and 18 from 6 p.m. to 9 p.m.

December 19 and 20 from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. at Glenwood Elementary School, 5787 S.W. Marine Drive, Burnaby.

(December 16 is handicap and group night. No reservations required.)

'CABINETS OF CURIOSITIES', a 13,000 sq. ft. exhibition of over 1000 items from the Vancouver Museum's permanent collection — the largest civic museum collection in Canada.

Many items have never been exhibited, or have not been on display since they were moved from the old Carnegie Library Museum thirteen years ago. The Vancouver Museum, 1100 Chestnut Street. Open seven days a week.

Don't Drive Yourself Crazy, Shop by Bus

Farecard, of course, offers the ultimate in flexibility and value, but for those who don't have one, the ninety-minute transfer can be a real boon.

Once you have paid for your fare and asked for a transfer, you have at least ninety minutes to transfer to any other bus, or series of buses, in the system.

Think of the possibilities. You can shop and ride . . . shop and ride . . . shop and ride . . . until the transfer expires. It sure beats fighting traffic and parking.

Just remember to ask for a transfer when you pay your fare. The driver cannot give you one at any other time.
