In response to passengers who find it inconvenient to buy a regular DayPass at a Skytrain Station or SeaBus Terminal, and in an attempt to simplify transit travel for Expo visitors, a new scratch and ride DayPass will be introduced May 1 for a six-month trial period.

The new pass, the first of its kind in Canada, will be widely available at all 7-Eleven Stores, beginning May 7, Vancouver Ticket Centre outlets, Overseas Chinese Voice outlets and many other FareSaver outlets.

An adult DayPass will cost $3.00. A concession DayPass for senior citizens, students to grade 12 with valid GoCards and children aged 5-11, will cost $1.50.

The most important feature of the DayPass is its convenience. One or more can be purchased in advance for personal use or for friends coming to town. When the pass is to be used, the month and day is scratched and the pass is valid for unlimited rides on that date on buses, SkyTrains and SeaBuses, after 9:30 a.m. 'til the end of the service day (all day on a Saturday or Sunday).

North Vancouver operator receives SuperHost award

When Operator Bob Axton pulled into Phibbs Exchange at 7:30 AM, April 15, he was surprised to find the Honourable Claude Richmond, Minister of Tourism/Expo 86 waiting to greet him and present him with a SuperHost award.

A SuperHost official had been riding the bus a month earlier when Bob began to tell passengers about the SuperHost Program and how important he thought it was that visitors should be welcomed enthusiastically.

In presenting the award, Mr. Richmond said: "Many of our visitors will be using BC Transit in the months ahead and I'm glad that they, as well as regular commuters, are going to meet people like Bob Axton. He is a fine representative of our province."

SuperHost is a hospitality training program designed by Tourism B.C. to upgrade the level of service provided to British Columbia's visitors. The program is delivered by community groups throughout the province.
