Operators assist heart attack victim

Operator Michael McGee was a passenger on an Oak Street bus driven by John Thomson, when a man on board had a cardiac arrest. McGee placed the man on the floor and immediately began to apply CPR while Thomson phoned for an ambulance at a nearby gas station.

The man revived but had a second heart attack and McGee continued to work on him until the ambulance arrived.

Platform change at New Westminster Station

The installation of track between New Westminster Station and the new Columbia Station at 4th Street has been completed and is scheduled to open in February, 1989.

To facilitate the testing of the new track, the temporary platform now used for boarding will be removed, and starting Sunday, July 31, all passengers will use the platform on the south side of the track to board and alight.

The escalator will normally operate in the "up" direction. Please allow passengers to leave the train before attempting to board, and bear with us as we work to bring you more service.

Sunday Service for B.C. Day

Vancouver Regional Transit Services will operate on a Sunday schedule for B.C. Day, Monday, August 1.
