

How do you get to the Vancouver Sun Run on April 30

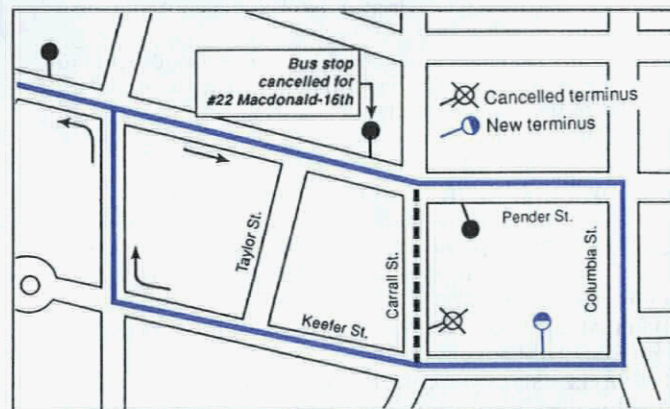

You could join the competition to find a parking spot and then race to the starting line, or you could relax and take transit.

On April 30, SkyTrain service will begin 90 minutes earlier than on a normal Sunday.

The first train will leave King George Station at 6:38 am, Scott Road Station at 6:45, Metrotown Station at 6:59 and Broadway at 7:08.

Some bus services will also be augmented for the occasion. See the April 21 issue of the Buzzer for a listing of transit services designed to get you into town for the Sun Run.

Revised route, effective April 10 22 Downtown / Macdonald - 16th Ave

The City of Vancouver will be converting Carrall Street to one way southbound between Pender and Pacific Boulevard South. The terminus for #22 buses will be moved from Carrall to Keefer, west of Columbia.

Beginning with the first trip on Monday, April 10, buses leaving the new terminus will travel west on Keefer, north on Abbott and west on Pender to the regular route. Eastbound buses will follow the regular route from 16th Ave & Trutch to Pender at Columbia, then travel south on Columbia and west on Keefer to the new terminus.

Artquake at Granville Island Free #51 service, April 8 & 9

On Saturday and Sunday, April 8 and 9, Granville Island will be vibrating with visual and performing artists during ArtQuake. Throughout the two days, 51 Granville Island buses, operating from Broadway at Granville, will offer fare-free service. Transfers will not be issued.

Correction

Cycling B.C. Share the Road Safety Clinics

In cooperation with BCAA, Cycling B.C. offers a series of free bicycle safety clinics as part of the 1995 Share the Road campaign. The clinics will cover the basic principles and techniques of safe coexistence of bicycles and cars.

Sessions will be offered at 12:30 pm, 2 pm and 3:30 pm on each of the following dates:

Saturdays April 8 and 15 at the basketball courts, Kits Beach Park (between Arbutus and the SeaSide bike route).

Sunday April 23 at Lonsdale Quay (just east of SeaBus).

Saturday April 29 at Pacific Press parking lot, 7th & Hemlock (on the new Off-Broadway Bike Route).

Participants are asked to arrive at least 10-15 minutes before the session to register at the reception table. Each session will be limited to 24 people so that all may receive proper attention. All participants must bring a bicycle in good mechanical condition and a helmet. A safety check will be performed during each session before heading out on the road. Each entrant will have an opportunity to enter a draw for a mountain bike.

For further information, contact Mark Allison at 821-5039.

Bicycle/transit services

A reminder that cyclists can take their bicycles on board SeaBus. There is no charge for the bicycle at any time of day, including rush hours.

Cyclists can Bike & Ride by leasing lockers at King George Station, Scott Road Station, Sexsmith Park & Ride in Richmond and Ladner Exchange. A few lockers are presently available at the Sexsmith and Ladner locations. Phone Cycling B.C. for information: 737-3034.

Cyclists can Bike & Ride by using the rack equipped buses on the #404 route which operates from Vancouver International Airport to Tsawwassen Ferry Terminal. Adult bicycles can be loaded and unloaded (limit of two per bus) at the Airport, Richmond Exchange, the north side of the Massey Tunnel, Ladner Exchange and Tsawwassen Ferry Terminal. Check the timetable for trip times or phone Transit Information at 521-0400.
