5 Tips for Winter Travel

TRANSLINK WANTS TO HELP YOU BE PREPARED FOR TAKING TRANSIT THIS WINTER WITH THESE HELPFUL TIPS . . .

- Be prepared. Conditions can change quickly, check transit alerts on translink.ca or sign up to receive alerts directly to your phone or email. Wear footwear that provides a good grip for ice and snow and where possible, kick the snow and ice from your shoes before getting on transit. Use handrails and be courteous to other passengers by not putting wet feet, umbrellas or bags on seats.
- Be visible. Stay safe and be seen. Our operators can see you best when you're standing near the bus stop pole and wearing visible clothing or lights.
- Allow extra time. Like all traffic, our buses are impacted by poor road conditions too. To stay safe, our operators will reduce speeds and take extra caution to keep everyone safe.
- Plan ahead. If you're leaving your car at home or need to plan an alternate route, use TransLink's Trip Planner to plan your route. Reload your Compass Card online at compasscard.ca to avoid lineups at CVM's.
- Watch for your bus. If there's a lot of snow, your bus may not be able to pull up curbside at its stop. Wait until it's stopped and the door opens before you approach.

ALL ABOARD! ALL-DOOR BOARDING COMES TO THE 95 AND 96 B-LINES

We're introducing all-door boarding on the 95 B-Line SFU/Burrard Station and 96 B-Line Guildford/Newton Exchange as part of a pilot study that gets underway on January 1, 2018.

We expect all-door boarding to make your trip faster, more reliable, and more comfortable by allowing passengers to enter the bus through any door.

Check the Buzzer blog in January for details on how to share your experiences of all-door boarding.

Remember, the bus is a fare-paid zone. Passengers paying with cash should line up for the front doors.

Got your Compass Card topped up and ready to go? Get in line for the middle or back doors – just remember to tap in on the Compass readers near the doors before moving on in to make space for the folks behind you.

Saving the trees, one Buzzer at a time!

Buzzer readers may recall back in April 2017, we began printing The Buzzer on paper made with 100% agricultural fibre called Sugar Sheet. Sugar Sheet paper looks and feels no different than traditional paper made from trees. The big difference is that printing The Buzzer using Sugar Sheet paper saves 14 trees per edition! We've recently learned that as of October 2017, we've saved a total of 83 trees and 5,228 kg of CO<sub>2</sub>! Environmental sustainability is important to us and we're thrilled to continue to make a difference.
