BACK ISSUES

The Buzzer has been published for over 100 years! In this section, we mine through our archives for some fun historical finds!

Chartered Buses Can Solve Christmas Travel Problems. Consider charter bus service the next time your club, group or fraternity moves en masse.

Today, you don't need to charter an entire bus, but we do encourage Metro Vancouverites to park their cars and opt for transit during the busy holiday rush.

4 winter safety tips for transit this season

Winter is coming to Metro Vancouver and we want to help you be weather-wise.

1. Hold on!

To prepare for wet, snowy and icy conditions, hold on to handrails and poles where available. Closed toed, weather appropriate footwear will also help maintain a good grip. Wet, snowy and icy floors can quickly become slippery floors. Where possible, kick the snow from your shoes before getting on your chosen mode of transit. Remember, always be courteous to other passengers and don't put your feet up on open seats!

2. Don't run!

There's a time and a place to get your cardio in, and running for your train or bus just isn't one of them. Slow down and stay safe. Get real-time transit info is readily available on our mobile website, through Trip Planner and Transit Alerts at translink.ca, on Twitter via @TransLink, or by phone at (604) 953-3333. The latest up-to-date transit information is literally at your finger tips!

3. Dress for the season.

Bus operators have a lot to be aware of in AND outside of the bus. Make yourself visible to them! Wear lights, bright colours or reflective clothing, and stand close to the bus stop pole so they can stop safely for you. Conditions can change quickly, so consider dressing in layers as temperatures fluctuate throughout the day and mode you're travelling on. Staying comfortable can be crucial to your transit commute.

4. Allow extra time.

Much like all traffic, our buses can get held up by poor road conditions. To stay safe, our operators will reduce speeds and take extra caution to keep everyone safe.

For more information on winter conditions, visit: translink.ca/winterconditions

Real-Time Transit Information

Say 'goodbye' to the red LED signs on SkyTrain's Expo and Millennium Lines, and get ready to say 'hello' to coloured signs with real-time transit information! We're improving the customer experience by giving you the ability to know exactly when your train is coming, upcoming trains and where they're going.

While these signs will be a new addition to Expo and Millennium Lines, if you ride the Evergreen Extension and Canada Line you will be used to seeing them in your stations.

Work is underway at Lougheed and Edmonds station, continuing at remaining Expo and Millennium Line stations (excluding the Evergreen Extension) through 2020.

We're adding approximately 280 new customer information signs, including the 'next train' signs on platforms as well as new SkyTrain status signs outside the station – the first exterior station signs on the system!

Take transit home for the holidays

The TransLink Store has launched 12 new products! They include hoodies, a pocket square, greeting cards, bus and SkyTrain ornaments, Vancouver icons pillow and wrapping paper, just to name a few. Shop online from the comfort of your own home at translinkstore.ca

A message for visitors

On December 26, Vancouver (and Victoria) will welcome the world – the World Juniors that is! The 2019 IIHF World Junior Championship is in it's 43rd year and will run until January 5, 2019. We're proud to partner with the IIHF to help move volunteers, residents and visitors during its week and a half run.
